AROUND the TOWNSHIP

If the tenor of the echoes from the shindig down Pleasanton way last week end can be depended upon, the 1940 Alameda County Fair will steal the slogan "Bigger and Better."

The fair enjoyed a healthy birth and it is conceded that its growth will be just as robust.

The management of the show has every reason to feel gratified with the results and is deserving of the congratulations of the entire county.

Thanks to Mr. N. W. Armstrong, executive secretary of the Alameda County Development Commission.

That's a mighty nice booklet portraying Alameda County and Washington Township certainly came in for a share of the "breaks". There's the front cover, now. Splendid picture of Mission San Jose de Guadalupe with snow-covered Mission Peak in the top background. Well.

Then, there's the page display for Newark—noted for industrial activity; another full page for Irvington and its orchards and vineyards and the new foundry; still another full page for Decoto—dairying and stock raising and its fruits and tiles; and yet another full page for Centerville—crossroads of traffic with its fruit and vegetable packing.

True, Niles with its diversified activities and the beautiful canyon, shared a page with neighbor, Mt. Eden, but its still a nice layout. The same lot fell to Mission San Jose and Warm Springs in sharing a single page with Sunol, while Alvarado has a top half with Lake Chabot.

But, it is a nice booklet and we hasten to commend the work of getting together this material for distribution. Again, our thanks to Mr. Armstrong and the Alameda County Development Commission.

"Street Lamps? No!" shuddered the village elders. "Would encourage the keeping of sinfully late hours. Aye, and increase the number of deaths resulting from breathing the night air."

"Public roads. 'Tis the sacred duty of each citizen to provide his own." Thus voiced the sagacious rugged individualists of our colonial history.

But today, should we find ourselves shaken on a bumpy highway, slowed down by some road hog, or halted by traffic squeezing into a bottle neck, we indignantly shout, "We're taxpayers. They can't do this to us."

Yes, government has become as indispensable as our habits of drinking coffee and shaving with an electric razor.

LIONS CLUB SEES MOVIES OF CLEAN UP ON MAIN STREET

CENTERVILLE — The score of members of the Lions Club who donned overalls in the project of cleaning up Centerville's main street a couple of weeks ago, saw themselves in action when moving pictures of the cleaning job were shown at last week's meeting of the club by Judge Allen G. Norris.

Fines are being imposed on club members who failed to report for duty that day and the film is being used to double check the absentees.

Chick Santos, delegate to the Lions International convention at Pittsburgh, Pa., in July, gave a report of the activities.

William Clark, Union Oil Company manager in this territory replacing Jack Greely who was transferred to Modesto, was welcomed as a new member of the club.

Communities of Washington Township Are Prominently Identified With Fair Events

NILES — Washington Township played an important part in the Alameda County Fair which closed a four-day celebration at Pleasanton on Sunday.

The fair itself was successful far beyond the most optimistic expectations of the directors. The pari-mutuel betting at the first races held in Alameda County for more than 25 years reached almost $20,000. The attendance was between 30,000 and 35,000 for the four days.

Directors who had put up considerable money out of their own pockets began to feel more hopeful about the financial outcome when Sunday's record-breaking crowds poured through the gates.

Among those from this township prominently identified with the fair were George C. Roeding, Jr., chairman of the executive committee; William Bond of Newark, head of the livestock department; J. L. Enos, chairman of floriculture; Charles Burr, chairman of horticulture; Mrs. W. L. McWhirter, chairman of flower arrangements and Mrs. G. Williamson, chairman of publicity.

Washington Union High School placed first in the Future Farmer exhibits arranged by Paul Dougherty and Jack Clevenger. Dougherty, who is to leave soon for San Luis Obispo, captured considerable notice with his own exhibits of dried fruits, etc.

At the horse shows, Friday and Saturday nights, said to be the greatest aggregation of the blue-bloods of horsemanship ever collected in Alameda County, local participants were Bruce and Sandy Roeding who entered the children's pony class.

The township was prominent in the parade staged by 2,000 fair boosters at Pleasanton Sunday morning. Every town in the township was represented, one of the outstanding floats being that of the Newark Sportsmen's Club. Other local entries included the Irvington Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Irvington stove foundry the Alvarado Farm Home Department float, Pinto's orchestra, the Newark Sportsmen's and Sportswomen's club, the Newark fire department, the Niles Y. L. I., the Niles Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Centerville Lions Club, the Centerville Fire Department and others.

The "gorilla" float entered by Bill Helm of the Niles theatre was one of the most noted in the three mile line of march. Roeding was one of the aides to Mrs. June Page, 80 year old grand marshal.

Local girls on the queen's float were Patty Bliss, Miss Niles; Jessie Seane, Miss Decoto; Alice Mary Hegen, Miss Centerville; Lillian Caldeira, Miss Newark; Evelyn Brown, Miss Warm Springs. The queen of the fair was Miss Hallie Meier, of Pleasanton, crowned on Saturday by Governor Culbert L. Olson, guest of honor for that day.

On Friday, Judge Allen G. Norris was chairman of the day, devoted to Washington Township. Awarding of premiums totaling over $6,000 was practically completed at the Alameda County Fair Friday.

Championships in the milking Shorthorns went to Marvin Gill of Linden who captured both jun-

JAIL SENTENCES AND HEAVY FINES FOR DRUNK DRIVERS

NILES — Four men pleaded guilty to driving an automobile while drunk and were sentenced to pay fines of $90 to $100 each or to serve 30 to 50 days in the county jail by Judge J. A. Silva in the Niles Justice Court.

Smith Gillian of Carlisle, Ark. who admitted he had not obtained a driver's license since coming to this state, chose to serve the 30 day sentence; Victor Horat of Newark paid a fine of $90, while Trinidad M. Estranda will serve 30 days in jail and Steve Wells will serve 50 days.

ior championships and Antonini Brothers of Stockton who carried off both grand championships.

In the beef cattle, Dr. A. W. Henry of San Leandro carried off all awards on Aberdeen-Angus and William Bond of Newark, all awards for Shorthorns.

In the Duroc-Jerseys, J. M. Williams of Willows and Joseph E. Thorpe of Lockford divided honors, Thorpe winning the grand champion boar award and Williams, the grand champion sow trophy.

Henry Zipser won all champions in the Poland-Chinas and the Eastside ranch at Firebaugh, all awards and championships in the Hampshires.

CENTERVILLE — Future Farmers of Washington Union High School won 47 ribbons at the Alameda County Fair held at Pleasanton. In addition to winning in the future farmer division the Senior Poland China gilt of Edwin McNemar defeated those entered in the open classes for grand champion senior sow pig.

The boys won 25 ribbons competing in the Future Farmer livestock division and 22 ribbons in the open Horticulture show showing vegetables and fruit. This includes 22 first place and grand champion ribbons, 19 second place ribbons and five third place ribbons.

DECIDE SUCCESSFUL BIDDER SATURDAY

IRVINGTON — At 1 p. m. Saturday the board of trustees will meet at the Irvington Grammar School to open bids for the supplying of furnishings for the new school structure now nearing completion and for a new school bus.

Bids are being asked for school desks, chairs and tables and the bus for transportation of pupils to and from the school.

The new building will be ready for occupancy with the beginning of the 1939-40 school term next month.

Tomato Growers To Realize More Income On Crop This Year

CENTERVILLE — That despite belief of some growers to the contrary, a comparative cost of production of the tomato crop in various counties of this section of the state indicates a better income from his year's crop than for the last several years, was the declaration of Alameda County Farm Advisor Morrison at the regular monthly meeting of the Washington-Eden Farm Center, held at the high school Tuesday night.

Morrison conducted a discussion of tomato production costs with the aid of charts showing all phases of expense to the grower.

During a discussion of the Alameda County Fair which just closed at Irvington, Morrison suggested that next year in advance of collecting the various products for exhibition, the farmers would benefit by expert advice from some competent authority dealing with what constitutes a display and telling how to arrange it.

Paul Dougherty, a past president of the center who will leave the township to accept a teaching position at San Luis Obispo with the start of the school year, spoke briefly in the nature of a farewell talk. He assured fellow farmers that he will continue operation of his ranch much as it has been operated in the past and as nearly as possible maintain his connections with the farmers of this district.

A nominating committee, composed of Joe Williams, Walter Kempton and Manuel Almeida, was chosen to present a list of officers for the coming year. The election will be held at the next meeting on September 19.

It was decided to hold the election of officers in advance of the annual dinner meeting in October and considerable discussion was had of a tentative program for that evening.

A treasurer's report showed the manure spreader owned by the center and rented to members and non-members at $1 and $2 per day, respectively, is continuing to be much in demand. A seeder and farm level for contouring orchards, etc. are loaned to farmers without charge and are very much in use.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served.

Visitors attending the Ceramics Society convention in San Francisco spent Friday at play at Castlewood and also visited the Alameda County Fair at Pleasanton.

Other winners in the golf tourney were George Sladek, who was awarded an electric clock; Les Duffey, a golf club and Paul Sheppard, an electric sandwich grill. All three players are with the Kraftite Company of Niles.

Daily Bible School Enrolls Forty One In Township Parish

NEWARK — The first week of a two weeks daily vacation Bible School came to a close today for classes being held each morning in Newark and each afternoon in Centerville under sponsorship of the Washington Township Parish of the Presbyterian Church and under direction of Leo Brown, student pastor.

The enrollment for the second day on Tuesday stood at 41 pupils, but this was expected to be increased greatly. Last year, when classes were held at Irvington and Alvarado, also, the enrollment reached approximately 100.

The school is held in Newark from 9 to 11:30 a. m. and in the Centerville church from 2 to 4:30 p. m. every day except Saturday and Sunday. The theme is "The Life of Christ" and one phase is developed each day.

The program includes showing of colored slides and moving pictures, craft work, songs, stories and dramatization.

At Centerville, Brown is being assisted by Mrs. C. E. Anderson and the faculty at Newark includes Brown, Mrs. Lesda Brown, Mrs. R. O. Grace, Mrs. S. Smyrle, Vesta Reviere and Dorothy Taylor. Student leaders are assisting much as they would in public school, in keeping order and setting up equipment.

This evening a picnic is planned for either Linda Vista Park or Alum Rock Park.

Closing exercises will be held at Centerville next Thursday and at Newark next Friday at which the public will be present for a program including demonstrations of class work and exercises in dramatization. Displays of work done will be on hand, as well.

VACATION SCHOOL WILL OPEN NEXT WEEK AT IRVINGTON

IRVINGTON — According to announcement by Carter McKemy, pastor, a daily vacation Bible school will begin classes at 9 a. m. next Tuesday in the Irvington Community Church building. All children are invited to enroll.

Mr. and Mrs. McKemy conducted the vacation school last year in conjunction with the Newark and Centerville churches of the Presbyterian parish. This year, the classes will be conducted as an independent unit.

A faculty is being recruited and equipment set up in preparation for the start of the classes.

DRIED APRICOTS REPORTED BRINGING HIGHER PRICES

CENTERVILLE — With receipt of word here that growers in the Hollister area are being offered 9c to 14c a pound for dried apricots of this year's crop, M. J. Bernardo, president of the Alameda County Apricot Growers' Union, again urged growers of the county to continue to hold out for prices of 11 to 17c for standard grade fruit.

The price offered the Hollister growers, according to Bernardo, is an increase over the last reported price of 7½ to 12½ cents and is two cents higher than the opening prices for this year of 7 to 11½ cents.

Bernardo cited the reported increase as evidence that the county growers' union "holding" campaign is beginning to get results in the way of higher prices.

Township Areas To Benefit Under New Electricity Rates

SAN FRANCISCO — Additional savings of $250,000 for 40,000 electric customers of Pacific Gas & Electric Co., in 28 well built up areas adjacent to Northern California cities and in 18 unincorporated towns will become effective on August 15, President Ray C. Wakefield of the California Railroad Commission announced today.

The new, lower rates for these classes of electric customers resulted from a special investigation inaugurated by the commission some 18 months ago. Heretofore persons living in unincorporated communities or outside the corporate limits of cities have paid the rural rates for electricity.

"The commission has for some time considered a more equitable rate should be inaugurated for these types of communities," Wakefield said "and consequently a special study of this problem has been made. This $250,000 reduction is in addition to the saving given rural customers of the company which became effective on July 1.

"While the new, lower rates do not fully meet the rates charged in the cities to which the outside customer is adjacent, the savings to domestic and commercial customers will average between 9.6 and 15.9 per cent.

"These savings are the final block of reductions of the $3,200,000 cut in Pacific Gas & Electric Co.'s gas and electric rates the remainder of which have been announced and have become effective."

Communities affected by the new rate include:

Centerville where 625 customers will save $4,400 annually; Newark, where 329 customers will save $2,300 annually, and Niles where 685 customers will save $4,800 annually.

Mrs. Neves and daughter Beverly, were rushed to Pleasanton for first aid. The mother received a sprained wrist and minor hurts, and the child has a fractured bone below the knee cap.

Neves and a son, Mervin, escaped injury as did Machado.

Former Residents Of Niles Meet Tragic Death Near Manteca

NILES — Friends in this community were shocked by the tragic deaths of Elmer E. Albee, and his son, Desmond W. Albee, aged 9 years, on Monday while Mr. and Mrs. Albee and the boy were bathing in the San Joaquin river near Manteca.

According to Mrs. Albee, who managed to get out of the water alone and is staying with relatives in San Leandro, Albee had his son on his back and the three were playing in the water. The father stepped into a hole that later proved to be 19 feet deep. None of the three could swim, it was said, and the man and boy were drowned immediately.

Mrs. Albee clambered to the bank of the river, being knocked down once as their dog jumped into the water, but she reached safety. The bodies of father and son were recovered within a few hours.

The Albee family, including a daughter, Lenore, who is employed as registered nurse in San Rafael, were residents of Niles for about 12 years, moving about two years ago to an island in the San Joaquin River where Albee was employed by the Western Pacific Railroad as tender of the highway drawbridge on State Highway No. 50, Tracy to Stockton. Both children attended the Niles grammar school.

Funeral services were conducted from the Fruitvale chapel of the Clarence N. Cooper Mortuary at 1:30 p. m. on Wednesday.

Both were native Californians and Elmer Albee is survived by four brothers, Maurice, Clarence, Walter and Milton Albee; two sisters, Mabel Albee and Mrs. Mildred McIntosh.

CHECKMATE ON PAROLE

What could give greater comfort to an ambitious young criminal, working his way up in the underworld, than the expectation that an easy-going parole board will free him after serving part of his term?

And what can throw greater discredit on the parole system than its misuse not by the persons paroled, but by the men entrusted with administering it properly?

It is little wonder that the parole granted Gilbert H. Beesmyer struck Californians like a bolt from the blue and forced the Prison Board to rescind its action. Here was a man who had embezzled eight million dollars of building and loan savings, destroyed the hard-earned savings of thousands of small investors, and been sentenced to 40 years' imprisonment. After serving barely one-fifth that term his freedom is proposed.

Eight years for eight million dollars seems, indeed, like a very easy way of earning money. And the country's courts, as well as parole system, will lose the respect they are entitled to if the sentences they impose can be set aside with such seemingly little justification.

Can the average man be blamed if he says, in disgust, "Let's abolish the parole system?" Yet it will be the infrequent, but conspicuous, abuses of the parole system, that lead him to that conclusion. Less than 7 per cent of all men released by the United States Parole Board in 1937 were returned as parole violators. We don't hear about the other 93 per cent who are making good.

Decisions of the "eight years for eight million dollars" type do much to place a humane and intelligent parole system in jeopardy.

There are more than a million California citizens who have a right to vote—but who temporarily have lost that right by not registering!

Are YOU one of that "missing million"?

If you are, don't let another day pass; REGISTER NOW!

California, on November 7, will vote at a special election on the dangerous Ham and Eggs (30-Every-Thursdays) proposal. This fantastic measure was beaten at the polls last year—but promoters of the plan are now working harder than ever to enroll every trusting elder citizen in behalf of their unworkable program. Their campaign collections total hundreds of thousands of dollars.

And ALL CALIFORNIA—YOU AND YOUR NEIGHBORS AND THE MAN ACROSS THE STREET—will be the victims if this disastrous, unworkable, printing-press money plan is foisted on California. It is not enough to disregard this spurious scheme.

Best of all these modern gas heating marvels use gas fuel more economically—save you money every hour.

For a very limited time now—you can still save 10% on the purchase of modern gas heating equipment. Your monthly payments will not begin until October 1. Buy now. Save Money. You will find, too, that, all things considered, Gas Heat is the cheapest heat you can buy.
